COAL OIL IN EDUCATION.

In a little book entitled "The Pursuit of Knowledge Under Difficulties," given the writer in 1898 for being a good boy in Sunday-school, a long list of names is given of men who rose to eminence from grinding poverty. Most of them were compelled to work hard all day, and at night they studied what few books they could get, by the light of the old-fashioned open fire place. Some of our greatest statesmen, and several Presidents of the United States, laid the foundation of their education in that humble way. The discovery of coal oil had the invention of cheap lamps have placed a brilliant, safe and agreeable light within the reach of all.

There is no reason now why any man should be ignorant of any of the sciences. All previous knowledge, the accumulation of ages, is open to every one. It is conveniently printed in cheap form, and can be bought for a trifle compared to what it once cost. The only thing now lacking to make the most ordinary individual learned, is the consuming desire for knowledge. This is spreading among the people, and it should be encouraged by parents. The love of truth for its own sake is an ennobling attribute.

EDITORIAL NOTES

One service that Garfield rendered to reform must not be overlooked. He slew that dragon named the courtesy of the Senate. He had denounced it years before, in his place in the House; upon the threshold of his administration he destroyed it. It was the deadliest foe of reform, and he attacked it in its lair. The weapons with which he struck were not the weapons of civil service reform; but they did the business. President Garfield regained, for the executive powers which had long since been usurped by the Senate. It is to be hoped that none of his successors will surrender what he won at the cost of his life; and if the prerogative of the executive are vigorously maintained, the way will be clear for civil service reform.

We heartily endorse the Gold Hill News in the wish for good nominations next year. Let the Jeffersonian test: "Is he honest? Is he capable?" be applied to candidates for nomination in the next campaign. And let him whose only claim to a nomination is that he is a smart politician be relegated to obscurity. It rests with the people to determine whether Nevada shall have an honest and economical government for the next two years, or whether she shall be bankrupted by extravagance and misrule.

Reno people ought to cultivate intimate relations with Churchill county people. They are all good citizens, never refuse to pay a bill and all have money. They naturally come to Reno and will meet our people half-way. It would be a good thing for merchants to make little trips into such settlements once in a while. They would make friends by it, and bring business into the town.

Harper's Christmas Weekly is a fine number. The frontispiece is by Nast and shows a little fellow springing out of his crib and catching Santa about the neck. Nast also has a double-page cartoon inside.

The Reville says Austin is the only place that has sent money to Michigan. The Reville is mistaken. Reno sent a substantial contribution.

This windy weather will likely last till late in the spring. If a fire breaks out, what will you do about it?

The Bodie Free Press has a half column of undertakers' advertisements, all in a row.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to RENO EVENING GAZETTE.
EASTERN.
QUITEAU.

"You Mind Your Business or I Will Stop Your Mouth."—The Prisoner Removed to the Dock.

WASHINGTON, December 20. Quiteau came into the court-room this morning looking paler than usual. He had not slept well as a man was placed in a cell near his who was suffering from a most violent type of mania caused by the excessive use of morphine, and during the whole night his shrieks rang through the jail. Quiteau was annoyed and asked the occasion for such a riot. The keeper replied: "We have got a crazy man on our hands to-night." "Well," said Quiteau, "why don't you choke him and make him keep quiet and not let respectable people be disturbed in this way by the miserable lunatic?" Dr. McDonald took the stand and was cross-examined by Scoville, mainly on temporary insanity.

The witness was asked if in his practice he had not met an instance of temporary insanity. He replied: "Yes, sir; I knew a man who was insane for 24 hours."

Scoville (eagerly)—And then he got well? "No, sir; he died."

[Laughter at Scoville's expense.] The witness was asked what he meant yesterday by saying: "I think he (prisoner) has been playing a part in court," and replied: "I believe he has been feigning what he believed to be insanity, but not really insanity. I believe he has been attempting to give the impression in court that he is insane, and with that idea has been acting a part."

Scoville soon became involved in a discussion with counsel on the importance of the question, when Quiteau shouted "You had better let go; you are making altogether too much of him. If you have not got enough sense to see it I will have to tell you."

An allusion was made to the axe incident, when Quiteau commented contemptuously: "Oh, nonsense; that axe story is the merest fiction—it is all rubbish."

Shortly afterwards he said: "Doctor, just tell something about Abraham, and we will let you go."

The witness was asked if he got discharged for granting a false certificate of health to Wm. M. Tweed when the latter was in confinement in the Penitentiary, and replied: "I never gave Tweed a certificate of health or ill-health, and I was never discharged from any position in my life."

Dr. Randolph Barksdale, Superintendent of the Central Lunatic Asylum, near Richmond, Virginia, visited the prisoner at the jail. He had also closely observed him in court, and, from his personal examination and observation, was of the opinion he was sane.

The witness also testified that he believed Quiteau had been feigning insanity in court. The witness believed, taking as true the facts set forth in the two hypothetical questions of the prosecution, that the prisoner was sane when he shot the President.

Dr. John H. Cullender, of Nashville, Superintendent of the Tennessee Asylum for the insane, had given special attention to the study of insanity for the past twelve years, and had seen about two thousand cases during his connection with the Tennessee Asylum. The witness had visited the prisoner in jail, and had closely observed him in court, and believed him perfectly sane. The witness did not believe the deity ever inspired a man to kill a fellow creature, and any who labored under such insane delusion would show it in act if not by words.

In answering hypothetical questions he said the prisoner was undoubtedly sane. Scoville excepted and Quiteau interposed his remarks. Scoville made a sharp cross-examination.

After recrossing Scoville put the hypothetical question which embraced the clause, "Suppose the prisoner believed himself to be a partner with Jesus Christ?" Judge Porter protested against the question as blasphemous, and said it would be a disgrace to a Court of Justice in a Christian nation to allow it to be entertained for a moment.

marks, and Quiteau again interrupted him, and shouted, "well, you had better mind your own business."

Judge Porter—That is my business here to-day, and, your Honor, I must now insist upon my motion of Saturday, that the prisoner be removed to the dock.

Scoville arose to speak, when Judge Cox said: Let me know first if the counsel desire to be heard upon the motion to remove the prisoner to the dock.

Judge Davidge then proceeded to speak to the motion. He believed the time had come when every one present was perfectly satisfied the prisoner was perfectly sane in respect of his behavior, and amenable to the same rules as other prisoners. In the case of General Sykes, who was tried in this court for murder, the Judge refused to deviate from the rule, although he was a distinguished lawyer and Member of Congress at the time he sat in the prisoner's dock during his trial.

Scoville said he would assent to any proposition which might be deemed necessary. No one had suffered more than he had from the prisoner's behavior.

Quiteau interrupted—Well, it is because you are a jackass on this case. If I had decent counsel, I should not have any occasion for remarks. You are doing well enough on your own theory, but your theory is altogether too narrow. You have not got brains enough for this case.

Col. Reid denied the assumption that the prisoner's sanity had been established. No human knowledge could fathom the workings of an insane mind, and humanity would dictate that leniency be extended toward him. He thought admonition from the Court would suffice.

Corkhill insisted upon the removal of the prisoner to the dock, and the removal from around him, of the special policemen who were not regular attendants of Court; that he should be kept in the dock with no other special protection than that which is accorded any other prisoner.

Quiteau (trembling with anger or apprehension) shouted out: "You want to shoot me do you, Corkhill? You can't convict me so you want to get me shot. You might as well hang me up outside and tell men to shoot me. I tell you (raising his voice almost to a shriek). God Almighty would curse you, sir, if I was put in that dock and shot, you miserable wretch, you."

Scoville with much feeling protested against the proposition of the District Attorney, which could not be understood by any one other than an invitation to all who heard to shoot the prisoner if an opportunity offered.

After a most impressive argument by Judge Porter, in which he repelled the reflection of counsel for the defense upon the District Attorney, Judge Cox gave his opinion, stating that no certain measure to silence the prisoner could have been taken that would not have abridged his constitutional rights, whereas it had been deemed, and he thought rightly that the prisoner's behavior and utterances would prove the best means of determining his mental condition. He ordered the prisoner removed to the dock which was then done.

Blaine's New Project.

WASHINGTON, December 28. Ex-Secretary Blaine has gone into a new railroad project intended to open up the coal and timber region near the head waters of the Potomac. The projected railroad is to run from the Baltimore and Ohio railroad south to Richmond and Alleghany. The amount of stock taken by him in the new company is said to be a quarter of a million dollars. Ex-Senator Chaffee, Senator Davis, and S. B. Elkins have each taken a half million.

Eastern Lumbering Prospects.

CHICAGO, December 28. Lumbering operations are far behind this winter, no snow having fallen in any part of the timber region, and loggers are much discouraged. The ground is as soft as in the Spring, as far north as the British Possessions. Certainly this year's lumber crop will not exceed that of last year, although an addition of three hundred million feet was expected, as prices were high and last year's crop inadequate.

I Flood Expected.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., December 28. A big flood is expected on the Susquehanna to-night. The water is ten feet above low water mark and still rising rapidly.

Startling If True.

WASHINGTON, December 28. Ex-President and Mrs. Grant accepted an invitation to visit at the White House to-day.

An Explosion.

LITTLE ROCK, December 28. Watsons mill at Larden blew up yesterday, killing one person and wounding three.

A Race with Nitro-Glycerine.

BRADFORD, Pa., December 28. John McCleary, while torpedoing a well-to-do, accidentally exploded 38 pounds of nitro-glycerine. Seeing an explosion was coming he fled precipitately. His coat tails were taken off as smoothly as if by shears, his body badly lacerated by flying debris, and he was thrown 200 feet. He jumped up and continued running until fatigue and fright exhausted him, effecting his escape, which is the most marvelous on record.]

OPINION OF SCOVILLE.

What District Attorney Corkhill and Judge Davidge Say.

WASHINGTON, December 28. Scoville said to-day: "If it were not for the fact that I feel sure he is insane no power nor money in the world could have induced me to defend him. I think that the time will come when the American people will be grateful to me if I can save that insane man from the death penalty. If I get a new trial for him, and the case be postponed, say for a year or even less, I believe that they will agree with me that he is insane, and be justly glad that our nation shall not have sacrificed a madman through the medium of legal process and punishment for sanction of laws, enacted in respect to sane violators, thereof."

I apprehend that there will not be another trial. The court in banc will rule upon my exception immediately after the rendering of a verdict. District Attorney Corkhill and Judge Davidge both feel certain of an immediate verdict of "guilty," as indicated from the complexion of the testimony, the well established fact of the prisoner's sanity and their experience in criminal cases.

The general belief is that Scoville would not only have never entered the case, but would have thrown it up afterwards, but for the influence his wife exercised over him. She is master of the domestic circle, and does not hold back a jot from bossing matters.

A Blackmailer Taken In.

NEW YORK, December 24. Louis Seward, of 206, Henry street, alias John B. Black, was arrested on a charge of sending letters to Joseph A. White, threatening his life and disgraceful disclosures unless he paid $1,000. The writer was discovered through the medium of a personal.

Quiteau's Stopings.

WASHINGTON, December 28. It having been announced that Quiteau had said he would hang up his stockings on Christmas eve, a lady remarked that if he would patiently postpone his intention a few weeks, he could hang up a pair of them, whereupon one of the medical experts rejoined, "and they will both be well filled."

Augusta, Georgia, December 28. The five or six hundred negroes from Edgefield, South Carolina, passing through on the way to Arkansas, complain that their guide, the Rev. Mr. Hammond, is not playing fair in matters of transportation charges.

"Bulletins" and "Call" vs. the "Chronicle."

SAN FRANCISCO, December 28. In the suit of Geo. K. Fitch, of the Bulletin and Call, vs. Chas. DeYoung & Co., of the Chronicle, for libel in charging that the columns of the Bulletin and Call had been sold to the railroad company, the demurrer of the defendants was sustained by Judge Allen of the Superior Court, on the ground that a newspaper has a right to sell its columns, and it is no more libelous to charge a journalist with selling his newspaper than to charge a merchant with selling his wares.

A Bodie Rough Shot in Montana.

NEVADA'S CAPABILITIES.

She Can Feed More Cattle and Horses by Raising Different Crops.

Nevada is not supporting near the animal life it is capable of. The land is not put to the most economical use in either the kind of crops or methods of cultivation. The turnip grows well in cold soils, and in fact it is only in cold countries that it reaches perfection. It grows larger in California, but is stringy and woody and has no such delicious flavor and juicy meat as here. The turnip is not only excellent food for man, but both tame and wild cattle eat it with a relish. It makes them fat and healthy. A piece of land that will raise a ton of hay will raise several tons of turnips. Beets and carrots also make excellent food for animals, and will grow well almost anywhere in Nevada. It is difficult to say where the capacity of Nevada for raising cattle and horses would stop, if the right methods of farming prevailed. Distant parts of the State are capable of producing vast quantities of grain, hay, beets, carrots and turnips, and if these were all cultivated to the full extent, and fed to stock the results would be enormous. Cattle and horses are goods that are independent of railroads. Thousands of head have been raised in Nevada, Oregon and Idaho and driven to the country east of the Rocky Mountains at only a nominal cost.

EASY EDITING.

Improvements in the Newspaper Business—A Nice Way to Earn Dis-monds.

It is getting to be a very easy thing to run a newspaper. All sorts of patent devices are now in vogue to save the over-worked editor. The most common one is to have one-half of the paper printed in some large office, which furnished the advertisements and reading matter as well as type, ink, paper and labor. This is called "patent outside," or "patent inside," as the case may be. The practice east is for the inside to be printed in this way, and the outside by the publisher in his own town, and is filled up with local news and local ads. On this coast the inside is usually printed at home. The man who furnishes the patent outside makes his money by supplying a large number of papers with exactly the same paper in size and shape, so he need only change the head-line for the many different papers. He gets a whole lot of advertisements which he runs in the whole list at very low prices. One firm in San Francisco supplies in this way over eighty papers.

Another great help to the editor, who is willing to pad his paper with it, is the Washington letter, which is written with copying ink, and sent over the country by the dozen. It is made up of news and opinions, guesses and gossip, and is usually from two to three weeks behind time before it reaches the readers, especially away out west where everything comes by telegraph as soon as it occurs. The letters are paid for by a small advertisement kept running in the papers, soliciting patent, land or pension business. The letters from

OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

In London, Paris, and other places is of about the same nature. A similar idea is being worked up by a Maine man. It is to compile what he calls "scientific miscellany," which he sells to all the papers who will pay a dollar or so a month. They run it as a whole, or in part, or pick out pieces and make fine editorials out of them. One of the schemes of 1881 was gotten up by a New Yorker to furnish cuts already set into the paper, of prominent men of the hour, for a dollar and a half each. Several coast papers got roped into this swindle. The pictures were horrible specimens of wood engraving, and looked no more like the fine pictures of the same faces in Harper's or Leslie's than a snow man looks like a marble statue. An enterprising firm, also of New York, is now furnishing at very low rates metal plates, the width of a newspaper column, of stories, jokes and what-not. It can all be run in one piece, or sawed up into pieces, as suits the taste. With these conveniences and a lot of exchanges from which those poor in original ideas can crib and copy, editing a newspaper is about the easiest business a man can get into.

At a meeting of the Legion of Honor held at the Baptist church last evening, W. M. Boardman was installed Commander; Vice Commander, J. J. Grant; Secretary, C. W. Perry; Collector, M. T. Barnett; Treasurer, Thomas Barnett; Chaplain, H. W. Read; Guide, H. H. Holschield; Warden, D. S. Tallman; Sentinel, W. Shoff; Examining Surgeon, Dr. Fred Hutchins. The meeting adjourned until January 7th. Those who wish can go in as charter members on that evening, after passing the medical examination.

A Business Boy.

Nearly every day men go into the railroad office to get freight who are unable to write their names. This morning a little fellow, only 8 years old, stepped in and asked if there was freight for his papa, Mr. Brunick. The agent said yes, and asked him if he had the money. He said: "Yes, sir," and paid the bill. Then he signed his name, Willie Brunick, in a good round hand, and went his way.

Nothing Could Be Stronger.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 20, 1891.
H. H. WARNER & Co.: Sirs—I have been troubled with kidney disease since my childhood. It would be impossible for me to describe how much I have suffered. Your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has done me more good than the combined skill of all the physicians I have ever tried during my entire life.

Police Court.

O. R. Leete, the man that shot Talbot in a drunken fracas in DuVal's 5-cent beer dive Saturday night, was bound over this morning to appear before the Grand Jury, with bail fixed at $500. Mr. Leete, not being able to find sureties, was taken back to the county jail to reflect on the evil effects of bad associates, until the convening of the Grand Jury.

Taking Testimony.

The Gold Hill News says: "R. H. Lindsay and Tremmer Coffin, two legal lights, are on the Comstock taking testimony with reference to the recent attachment of the Nevada & Oregon railroad."

CHEAPER TELEGRAPH.

The Western Union Reduces its Rates For Messages.

The Bulletin says: Since its organization the Western Union has pursued a system of reduction in rates whenever business would justify. Within fifteen years they have made reductions to 60 per cent. The last was made in November, 1879, the "half-rate night tariff" being adopted. It has now been decided to reduce the day rates on all points west of the Rocky mountains and those east to $1 50. Proportionate reductions have been made between points on the coast west of Ogden. A message between any two points in California, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia will not exceed $1 for ten words. The reduced night rates will remain unchanged, the present reduction being on day rates only. The tariff will be, say on a message of ten words from San Francisco to New York or any other point east of Ogden, as follows: Day rate, $1 50; night rate, $1. Between points on the Pacific coast, including the States and Territories enumerated above, where the day rate is $1, the night rate will be 70 cents. The reduction is an important one, being equivalent to 25 per cent. Frank Jaynes, Supt. of the company for the Pacific coast, is issuing a circular letter to all the offices within his jurisdiction calling attention to the new rates. They will take effect on the 1st of January next.

One Experience From Many.
"I had been sick and miserable so long, and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense—no one seemed to know what ailed me—that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them and, known to my family, I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said, 'Hurray for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy.' The Medicine."

Feeble Ladies.
Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its elasticity, driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful; can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain is permanently removed. Will you heed this?

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

An attendant at the telephone station in the Rue du Bac, in Paris, recently opened communication with another station, and was awaiting a reply, when a volume of smoke and flame issued from the tube containing the wire. The fire quickly spread to the walls of the room, and was not extinguished until considerable damage had been done and several sets of apparatus destroyed. On the matter being investigated it was found that a workman in a sewer under the Boulevard St. Germain had accidentally burst open a gas pipe and so set fire to the inflammable covering of the telephone wires running alongside. The flames spread rapidly, and thus reached the office in the Rue du Bac.

The numerous flower stalls which have hitherto formed a characteristic feature of the streets of Paris are about to disappear completely. The Perfect of Police has given orders for their removal. Two reasons are alleged for this action. The first is the incumbrance caused by the stalls, and the second the loss of revenue caused to the municipality by the comparatively neglected state of the several public flower markets, owing to the completion of the street staircases.

The attacks made by the German authorities upon the Liberal press become more exasperating. The Boersse Courier has been confiscated by the police without any reason whatever being given. The Liberal press in Germany is as sharply looked after and baited by the secret police as if it promulgated socialism and revolutionary opinions instead of confining itself, as it generally does, to urging the cause of true liberalism and progress.

GENTLEMEN: For several years I have been a sufferer, and until your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure was suggested I have not known what to do for my trouble. My family physician attributed all my suffering to a diseased condition of my kidneys, and after he had failed to give me relief, I tried your remedy, and am a well man to-day.

THE RENO GAZETTE

For 1882 will be a better paper than it has ever been before. It now gets all the latest press dispatches, and is thus placed many years ahead of any other paper. It has all been the policy of the proprietor to make the GAZETTE a first-class local paper, with full accounts of everything that occurs in Reno, or Washoe county, or the State of Nevada. The resources of the country are carefully studied and written up by able correspondents, and the GAZETTE has done as much as all the other papers combined in this respect.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE

Contains all the reading matter of the Daily, without its advertisements. It is an eight-page paper, with good plain letters and clean, white paper. It has increased in an extraordinary manner in the last six months, and is now growing rapidly. Its interesting matter, crisp editorials and late news make its popularity. By availing themselves of our club rates, the WEEKLY GAZETTE costs only half a dollar a year. It is given with the Bulletin, Chronicle, Examiner and Union, or three dollars, with Harper's publications and the Argonaut for four dollars and fifty cents a year, and with other papers in proportion.
